NOTE:
PARKING on GROUNDS
In the interest of Safety for ALL members parking on the grounds on event days will only be permitted if sufficient room is available. Driving on the grounds once Training has commenced is not permitted.

I wish to once again take this opportunity to wish all members a Merry and safe Christmas and New Year and extend my good wishes to all that are also not well at this time. Our thoughts go out to you and your families.

As the warmer weather is now upon us, please be mindful of your dog's safety and wellbeing. Ensure they have plenty of fresh water and shade available. When travelling with your dogs, ensure that you have water with you and never leave dogs in hot cars. In this edition of the Shepherd News, we thought it pertinent to republish an article on snakes for your information.

The Annual Presentation Night has now passed and I am sure that most of you who attended had an enjoyable evening. Unfortunately, the evening was slightly marred by an issue concerning the waiting staff being spoken to a little harshly by some that were present. We have apologised to the management for this behaviour.

The club will be holding a working bee at the club on Sunday January 8, 2017 commencing at 9.30am. If anyone is able to assist with cleaning, general tidy up or maintenance, we would be most grateful. Enjoy your family, friends and dogs and see you all in 2017!

Be Safe,
John De Lucia

GRADING CERTIFICATE REQUIRED PLEASE

Starting from the top of the form –

- If your dog is a long stock coat you must mark it on the entry form or it will be entered in the appropriate stock coat class;
- Have you specified ALL titles your dog, and the sire & dam, have achieved;
- Are the registration numbers recorded correctly;
- Owner membership numbers – if the animal is jointly owned then BOTH membership numbers need to be on the form;
- Please remember to sign the entry form.

On the left side of the form –

- What type of show are you entering – an open show, champ show, members comp?
- In the case of our Champ Shows held over 2 days please specify which day you are entering & if entering both days, you must use a different form for each day;
- Catalogues are now NOT included with the first entry fee. They MUST be ordered separately. This is because of the animals that are jointly owned. If an owner has one or two animals in joint names and also animals in their name solely then they are paying 2 (sometimes more) initial entry fees and were entitled to 2 (or more) catalogues. Usually these "extra" catalogues end up in the bin which is an unneeded cost to the club, both in time and money;
- If you require a grading certificate for this animal then please specify somewhere on the front of the form. This only needs to be done once per year, at the first show.

SHOW MANAGER REPORT Continued

For all the exhibitors that enter online PLEASE, PLEASE ensure that –

- The animals details are updated when it achieves a title etc. – AZ stamp, Aus Ch title, * (for breed survey) etc;
- When adding a new animal ensure that ALL relevant details are entered and correct;
- If you require grading certificates please email me at arkahla@adam.com.au advising which animals you require certificates for. This only needs to be done once per year at the first show.

If you are not sure how to do any of this I am happy to show you, or talk you through the procedure.

Thanks everyone

Mr Ian Cooke, our Youth Handler Judge at the Members Competition in August 2016 has written a summary of his findings.
Thank you Ian for this contribution, and my apologies for it not being published earlier.

At the Members Competition judged by Mrs Fay Stokes from NSW, I had the pleasure of judging the Junior Handler classes.
Although not large in the number of competitors the quality was of a very high standard.
There were three very capable young ladies, who in my opinion have a great future showing dogs, and I, nor anyone else should have no hesitation in letting them handle our animals.

(1) 7 years and under 10, Bailey Mercer

Bailey came into the ring very confident. She showed a great rapport with the dog with very good voice control and communication and at all times had an awareness of the judge. Presentation of the dog in stance during the individual was of a high quality, showing teeth, making sure the front was correct and in movement. Her ability to answer my questions was well done.
What impressed me the most about Bailey was when she first entered the ring, and not long into her routine, a much older dog than the one she was handling, entered the ring and caused a slight unfortunate incident, but Bailey was in total control of her dog and her lead control was excellent; a more experienced handler would probably have remonstrated. Bailey handled the situation like a true professional and kept going, showing her dog to its best, for which she is to be congratulated. All the best for the future Bailey.

(2) 10 years and under 13, Katie Crozier

Katie came into the ring showing she had a very good rapport with her dog. Katie's ability to recognise when the dog was pacing showed very good lead control. She also had very good voice control/ communication with the dog and an awareness of the judge. Her presentation of the dog in stance, including dentition check and dog standing correct in front, was of good quality. She was able to answer all my questions when asked.
What impressed me the most was Katie's control of the dog in the gaiting exercise. Katie needs to be a little more confident and self-assured, but I'm sure as she handles more animals this will grow immensely. Well done Katie and good luck in the future.

(3) 13years and under 18, Bree Hansen

Well here we have a very confident and capable handler which I'm sure will come with the other girls with age and more experience. Bree has excellent rapport with the dog and excellent control of the lead. She has very good awareness of the judge and dog with the dog always in full view of the judge. Her presentation of the dog in stance, including dentition check, correct in front and the gaiting phases was of a high quality. She was very polite and able to answer all questions asked. Congratulations Bree and all the best for the future.

In conclusion, Bree being the eldest and having handled a great deal in the junior handlers will, I know, take the next step and become a much sort after handler in the conformation ring. To Bailey and Katie you are both well on your way to reaching the potential that Bree has. Congratulations to you all it was a pleasure to see you all do so well.

SNAKE BITE

The snakes most commonly found in our area are the Eastern Brown snake and the Red Bellied Black snake. These snakes are both highly dangerous to your pet with the brown snake being one of the deadliest snakes known to man.

Your pet's survival depends on you being vigilant. Snake bite in dogs is one of those emergencies where time is of the utmost importance, so do not delay getting your dog to a vet if you have any suspicions, or there is any signs of snake bite. All too often over my nursing career I have had the odd client who has seen the dog with a snake and wants to sit and wait to see if any symptoms develop. In my experience, your pet should be taken to the vet immediately for monitoring as sadly by the time symptoms develop, the chance of your pet surviving snake bite has greatly diminished with-out immediate treatment.

Symptoms of snake bite:

·Acute onset vomiting, salivation, urination, defecation, muscle tremors, shallow respiration, hind limb weakness ·collapsing +/-vomiting and then gets up and walks away (pre-paralytic sign)

What to do if your pet is displaying any of the listed symptoms:

·Get your dog to veterinary assistance immediately (even if you are unsure that it is snake bite it's better to have the dog at the veterinary clinic) If symptoms progress they will progress very quickly - your pet will have a better chance at survival if at a veterinary clinic.

·Limit movement as much as you can - if this means you have to carry the dog or bring transport to them do so. Movement increases the speed and spread of the toxin to major organs.

·Keep your pet calm – It's important that you also stay calm. Remember, your pet picks up on your stress and will also become more stressed.

·If it's a hot day, keep your pet cool with plenty of air flow around them to reduce panting. We want them to remain as clam as possible.

As with anything, safe guarding is better than cure and as a pet owner there are a few precautions you can take to minimize your pet's risk of snake bite

·Dogs love water however it's advisable not to allow them wander around in long grass near river and water areas.

·Keep your pet's yard clear of long grass, wood piles and leaf matter.

·Avoid your dog walking at dusk or early morning off leash in long grass - snakes are exothermic

·Use snake repellers or bird netting on your fence line borders. This helps to keep snakes out of certain areas but will in no way be 100%. Always keep a watchful eye on what your dog is getting up to.

Vet Assistance:

Time! Is of the utmost importance so if your pet is displaying the symptoms of snake bite, get them to the closet vet clinic. Download the following app and keep it on your phone - if you are traveling or out for the day, this gives you the location of your closet vet as well as first aid tips for all types of emergencies.

Search for - First Aid for Pets (Australia) in your app store. Simply download from there into your smart phone.

Snake Facts:

As much as they can be scary, being sensible in how we live and deal with them is important. Snakes do not attack humans, dogs or cats. They would prefer to slither away and be left alone.

Remember, dogs and cats usually only get bitten because they have decided it would be a good idea to hunt and attack the snake. Dogs will often see the snake as either something that should not be in their yard or a play toy.

Either way, often the snake is too quick for most dogs. Some dogs will have a natural respect and will just bark and carry on alerting the owner to go and investigate. Remove the pets from the area and then call a snake catcher to remove the snake.

Snakes are a reptile, which means they are exothermic: they get their body heat from external sources. A snake's body temperature - and so its level of activity - is controlled by the temperature of the air and the ground. It will try to maximise body heat by basking in the sun or lying on or near warm surfaces.

It's important to understand this as it gives us pet owners a better indication of when snakes are likely to be more active hence the comment about the time of day you need to be vigilant when walking or exercising your dogs. Snakes will not be found moving about when the temperature is extremely hot or cold. They will usually go to somewhere cooler when temperature goes over 32 degrees and leave their hunting and moving around till either morning or evening when the temperature is right for them to be able to hunt, eat and move. Often this is when man, snake and dog meet as often pet owners we walk our dogs at about that time in summer to also avoid the heat. So at this time of the day it's strongly suggested to keep your dogs on leash or exercise in an area that is clear and you can visibly see the ground were your pet is running.
