

Firstly, I would like to thank the South Australian Club for the appointment. It was an enjoyable day, with very good sportsmanship from all the exhibitors. The weather was warm, which was enhanced further by the humidity that kept increasing during the day. Being the first show for the calendar year in SA and the first show after summer, I was conscious not to let classes go too long so that the dogs didn't suffer in the conditions. Even still, there were a couple of dogs that had clearly done no training and were not coping with the small amount of work being asked of them.

Overall, the quality of the show was average, with a few standout animals – my Intermediate Stock Coat bitch winner is a really lovely bitch; very free easy movement with strong drive and matching forehand reach. First and Second in both the Stock Coat and Long Stock Coat Open Bitch Classes were also pleasing bitches – clean top and underlines, very good movement, and very enjoyable to judge. In the dogs, the first place Intermediate Stock Coat Dog is really starting to mature into a lovely dog – I would like to see him again in 12 months time in the Open Dog Class, where I think he will be a strong competitor. The First and Second Stock Coat Open Dogs were also high quality animals – the first place dog had very easy, free movement and moved effortlessly around the ring; the second place dog has a lovely outline in stance.

There were a few problems with animals not wanting to show their teeth and 2 Junior bitches showed concern with the stick. 1 bitch recovered OK and I was able to get a measurement, whereas the other bitch would not stand still long enough. My Baby Bitch Stock Coat winner had very free easy movement, but at this stage in development is already a bit fine in bone. I decided to forgive it today and hope that the strength of bone still comes through. In the Puppy classes, there were a number of puppies going through the 'development' stages and had a few restrictions in their movement because of this. I am sure this is just a development stage, though, and they will mature into competitive animals.

In all of the Open classes, I asked each dog to perform a loose lead gait one at a time. This was really pleasing to watch, and helped me determine which animal really was the best trotter in the ring. Nearly all the dogs were able to do it without much trouble – a few dogs were so used to being out in front with a taught lead that they weren't quite sure what to do. I would encourage all exhibitors to practice this with their dogs, as you never know what the judge will ask you to do.

Consistency of type throughout the classes was difficult to find – of the 36 animals entered and exhibited, they came from 23 different sires and 32 different dams.

Thank you again to the club for the appointment and the exhibitors for their entries.

The reason this bitch was ungraded is I couldn't keep the stick on her long enough to get an accurate measurement before she would move away scared. I tried 4 times to measure her, and each time got a different measurement and I never had the chance to do a depth of chest measurement. Other than measuring the bitch presented herself confidently, so I hope for the owner's sake that this is just a training issue.
