Event galore for paw-some members

BY KIARA STACEY

These past two months have gone exceptionally fast with the National in Sydney, our Championship Shows, a members competition, an obedience trial and were coming to the end of another financial year for the club.

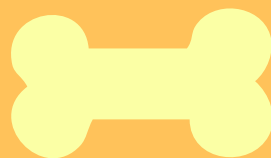

Many successes have been celebrated and a lot has been learnt. This edition has some shout outs so keep an eye peeled for those as well as two member recaps from the national.

I am looking forward to the warmer months and longer nights but as always ensure you remain vigilant with grass seeds and snakes.

Please let me know if there is anything I can do to better your experience with shepherd news and also accessing images.

President's Report

With the cold weather, things have been a little bit quiet at the club but we still don't stop!

We are fortunate to have two new aspiring Obedience Instructors, Lama and Luke, to help out with the obedience training of our members and I thank them for their support and wish them both all the best.

The club has recently installed a new exhaust hood in the canteen to once again improve the clubs facilities. Work has also started on erecting the shelters around the grounds to give our members an area to seek shelter from the weather.

The Committee and Members send their best wishes to Natalie who is one of our obedience instructors who sustained an injury and will be unavailable for about two months while she's on the mend.

I believe all that attended our recent Members Competition under Judge, Natalie Humphreys from WA, had a good time and thankfully, the weather was kind to us. Well done to everybody and your dogs. Unfortunately, a few people ended up sick with possible COVID so once again, just reminding everybody to be mindful if showing flu like symptoms or if feeling unwell, please stay home for your and everyone else's safety.

The club will be very active in the coming months with fund raising and looking at holding one or two events to help raise money for our 50th National Show and Trial in 2024.

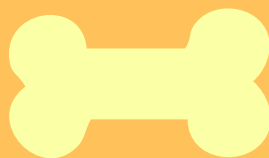

The voting at the recent SGM was a majority in favour of remaining members of the WUSV.

There has been a lot of social media accounts about excellent gradings I need to remind everybody that this is just one small part of the Harmonisation Programme as there are 23 schedules that are in this programme and unfortunately, we have decided not to comply with most of them.

Also, inter-variety breeding has been accepted by Dogs Australia and will commence from the 01/01/2023.

Enjoy your dogs!

John De Lucia
President

Breed Affairs Report

The breed lecture on Sunday May 29 was very well attended. The topic was the proportions of the German Shepherd and attendees included a couple of trainee ANKC Group 5 judges which was very pleasing.

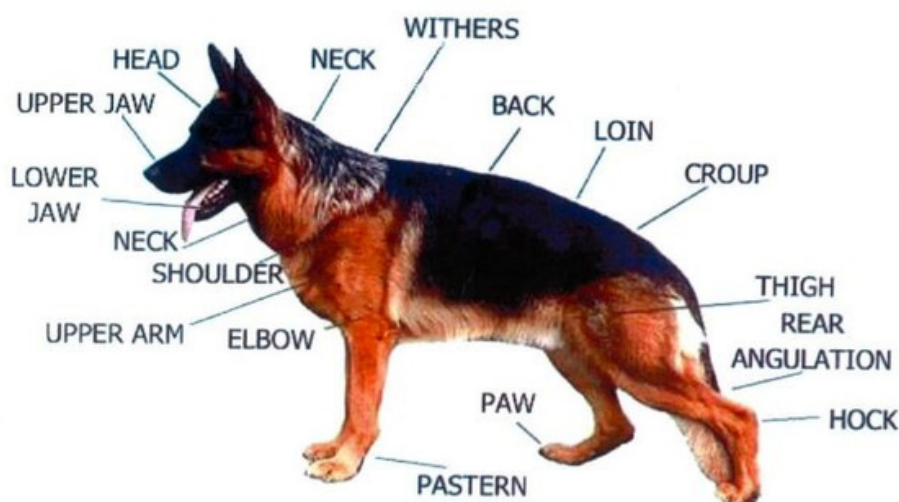

The club's championship show has been and gone, and it was disappointing that Mr B Anderson from New Zealand was unable to attend due to COVID. Congratulations to all winners placegetters.

The point score year has been completed and we congratulate the winners. The point score results are published within this Shepherd News.

The club continues to receive inquiries regarding puppies, so please advise the club when you have pups available so that your details can be given to the prospective purchasers.

The next members competition will be held on October 23 with Mrs Mel Adamson the judge.

48th National German Shepherd Dog Show and Trial Sydney 2022

The thoughts of a New-Bee

As many of you are aware, I'm very new to owning a German Shepherd and being part of the GS community, so my thoughts are from that perspective and not an expert, far from it.

My journey started in Adelaide at 4AM Saturday morning, in order to catch the 6AM flight to Sydney. Then came the hire car and further journey of well over an hour, getting to the show venue around 10am. I then enjoyed two days in heaven, where there was nothing but GS puppies, up to the big boys and girls as far as my eyes could see.

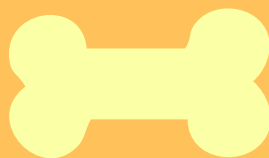

I quickly managed to catch up with John, Jenny & Stephen (President, First Vice President, Secretary) and later Peter (Treasurer). The venue was very good and plenty of space at the Hawksbury Showground and while Adelaide had awful weather, the National had bright sunshine most of the time.

Being new to the show and trial world, I was very conscious of my actions and kept my thoughts to myself, but it was most certainly an interesting experience just watching and listening to people around the show ring. I did feel like a puppy following John, Stephen and Jenny around, so tried my best to disappear to give them space to do their thing from time to time.

They were all very patient with me and answering what to them must have been very silly and basic questions, for example: "Stephen, why is the judge shouting "no second handling", I can only see one handler in the ring?"

I did at one point collect enough courage on the second day to say to Jenny: "I do like that dog" for Jenny to then reply, "why is that", to which I said "it looks beautiful", and she said 'go on'. Well, I had no option then to try and analyse why I said that, "to me it has a beautiful face full of character, he has beautiful dark colouring and moves really well, I just love him, he's got bags of personality, but I know nothing to be fair"! Jenny was very polite and just said "hummm, interesting, ok". It turns out, the dog took 1st place, I did choose another on the previous day in a different group and discussed it with Stephen at length, that dog came 5th.

I have to say I found it fun and immensely informative, after watching and talking to both Jenny and Stephen as the competition handlers walked their GS around the arena listening to Jenny and Stephen and me interrupting with my questions. Plus, I tried to get too close to listen to the judges detailed critique at the end of each group/class.

I found it often enlightening to a new guy like myself, plus more questions for Jenny and Stephen.

I did feel very privileged to have two highly experienced, kind people in Jenny and Stephen sharing their immense knowledge with me and not to mention Peter who, although busy with his GS also took time to answer and help me understand. Congratulations to Peter handling an Open Bitch to gain the Silver medal.

During both Saturday and Sunday, I also spent a little time with John our president, and got to meet various members of the GSDCA executive committee and representatives from around Australia and overseas. The GSDCA executive committee were very hard working and conscientious people, putting in many hours to bring off this excellent show. Numerous awards were presented including one to Police Dog 'Kronos' for their outstanding work and commitment to the community.

I took a very keen interest in the obedience class on the Sunday and was observing a lady and her dog practicing about an hour prior to the final. I believe they had won their class and was now in the run off against several other class winners! The two (dog and handler) were a very impressive team. The sharpness of the reaction to the commands (hand only) by the dog were instant and a magnificent sight to behold. The dog did not put a paw wrong, I was super impressed, especially with the noise and distractions in close proximity while they were practising. An hour flew by and they entered the ring first. Judge gave the commands, right -turn-left -turn, sit, figure 8 pattern, all on point. Then right about turn and it all went wrong, the dog walked slow and then just stopped and sniffed the grass. I could not believe it. Never would I have thought that would or could happen. Then, I inwardly smiled to myself thinking about me and 'Rollo' (my 18month old GS) on a Sunday morning or at graduation. At home so much goes really well, then at graduation or on class day things go to pot, he loses concentration or something puts him off, or I'm stressed.

No longer, will I get stressed, it happens to champions, I've seen it at Cruft's and now at the GS National. The lady left the arena then hugged her GS and she smiled, laughed and hugged the dog again and shrugged her shoulders. So, why should I get stressed or upset if things don't work out in that moment? It doesn't matter, the dog doesn't know they are at a National competition or training in the park. I take my hat off to her, she was a true champion and ambassador for GSDCA the way she handled the whole disappointment.

The winner and 2nd place obedience were very different in style one fast, sharp with the dog very close to the handler. The other (and winner of Gold) was slower, controlled, methodical and dog about a hand width away from the handler, a very worthy winner. Each got a huge applause from the a very appreciative audience on finishing their rounds. The standard was superb, handler and dog in true harmony and control, so glad I made the effort to get to watch it.

A massive personal highlight of the two days was meeting Australian legend Dawn Fraser AC MBE and patron of GSDCA and sharing lunch with her.

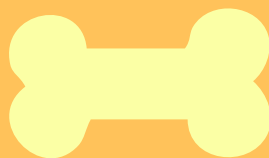

Our Patron took time to talk with everyone who wanted to meet her and have photographs taken, true legend.

I'm really looking forward to next year when it is hosted in Melbourne.

But, we as a club have two years now to get ready for hosting the 50th National GSDCA Show & Trial in 2024.

We have a lot of work to put in to make the 50th National a memorable and outstanding event, especially for our club and members. Planning has already started and we will pick up momentum as we get closer.

National Recap

The 48th National Show and Trial in Sydney in June was well attended by many SA members. The atmosphere the club members carried interstate was vibrant and inviting. It felt fantastic after driving for about 12 hours with breaks to toilet the dog to see a large number of fellow SA representatives spending the night at Gumly Gumly.

The Thursday breed survey was very informative with Melanie Groth (NSW) explaining the breed survey to onlookers. It was very much appreciated as someone green to the breed just to listen, watch and learn.

I did miss the meet and greet as I didn't know where it was but I heard the food was good for those who made it.

It was all action on Friday and I was taken aback by how well the show committee pulled off the amount of work which needed to go into the event. It is a real testament to those few individuals who made everything run so smoothly. Thank you for a great first time exhibitor at a national.

The show days were long and filled of so many beautifully crafted animals really putting their best paw forward. I was in awe with the quality and believe the judges had a very tough job critiquing and judging all of the exhibits.

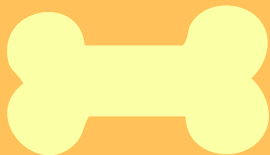

As a conformation show exhibitor even watching the trial competitors was fascinating and was really amazing.

The official opening was another great experience and the honorary mentions and respects was good to witness especially PD Kronos with Chief Inspector Danks and Senior Constable Ben Cook.

The Saturday night dinner and dance was a fun Mexican themed fiesta with burritos on the menu and lots of laughs.

Sundays exhibits with the open bitches and dogs was incredible and after the show was the presentation. Congratulations to all who exhibited and thank you again to everyone who made my first national a great experience.
